RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

- May 1997- July 1998 MS Master's Thesis
MCMI-III Profiles of Combat Veterans: Predictors of Marital and Familial Impairment
Florida Institute of Technology
Completed: July 1998
Chairperson: Richard Elmore, Jr., Ph.D.
The purpose of this study was to investigate the relationship among the four MCMI-III scales: Avoidant, Antisocial, Passive-Aggressive and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder, and their relationship to the levels of Marital and Familial Impairment in male Vietnam combat veterans. The levels of Marital and Familial Impairment were obtained through the use of the Functional Impairment Scale and self-report. Multiple regression analyses were used to identify a predictive quality between the MCMI-III and Marital or Familial Impairment. Additional analysis was performed to identify a correlation between the veteran experiencing impairment in one domain of his life and any functional impairment in other areas of his life.
- August 1995- February 1996 Research Assistant
Florida Institute of Technology - MSN Thesis
Supervisor: Frank Webbe, Ph.D. for Deborah Russo, third – year Psy.D. student's Thesis: “Characteristics that Differentiate Binge-Eating Disorders from Bulimia and Obese Non-Binge Eating.”

May 1976 The Psychological Aspects of a Myocardial Infarction
Medical College of Georgia
Augusta, GA

The purpose of this study was to identify the psychological aspects of a myocardial infarction (MI) in post-MI patients. Stress level management and cognitive thinking processes were examined as to their role in the pre and post MI patient.
